Sir:

RESPONSE TO NOTICE TO FILE MISSING PARTS

In response to the Notice to File Missing Parts mailed November 30, 2001, reconsideration is requested of the requirement to submit substitute drawings.

The Notice to File Missing Parts states that the drawings contain excessive text and, for that reason, require some substitute drawings. No specific instance of excessive text has been identified in the Notice to File Missing Parts, leaving applicants to guess where the Office finds the original drawings to be non-compliant with 37 CFR 1.84. The drawings submitted herein were copies of the drawings already accepted in the parent application. Moreover, with the exception of drawing figures which provide pseudo-code representations of processes (which of necessity and nature, are textual), the only text in the drawings involves labels for elements in block diagrams and the like. Clearly the latter cannot be considered excessive text. Thus, the drawings all appear to be compliant with 37 CFR 1.84. Eleven new sheets of formal drawings are submitted herewith, though they are copies of the original drawings.

Respectfully submitted,
